

Elenco vincitori migliori poster AIP Lecce 2021

Chirico Ilaria, Pappadà Alessandro, Ottoboni Giovanni: How COVID-19 has affected people with dementia and carers: an Italian multicenter study, University of Bologna

Filippi Bianca, Di Gesto Cristian, Parolin Micol: Patterns of emotional availability in mother-infant dyads in the context of substance use disorder, Università degli Studi di Padova, Università degli Studi di Firenze

Forte Giuseppe: A new diagnostic tool to assess an emerging behavioral dependence: the binge-watching addiction questionnaire, "Sapienza" Università di Roma

Manari Tommaso: The mediating effects of detachment and self-other differentiation in the relationship between childhood emotional neglect and parent-related loneliness, University of Parma, Parma, Italy

Musicò Alessia: Online gaming: body disconnection predicts addictive behaviour over and beyond aggression, depression, anxiety and stress, Università di Firenze

Muzi Stefania: Attachment and alexithymia as risk factors for emotional-behavioral problems in institutionalized, late-adopted and community teenagers: mixed-method multi-informant prediction models, Università di Genova

Rollo Simone, Ferrante Lucrezia: Meaning, determinants, and strategies to prevent problematic internet use. A qualitative study adopting adolescents' perspective. 1Laboratory of Applied Psychology and Intervention –University of Salento, Lecce

Vagnini Denise, Mazza Umberto, Corradi Ettore: Effects of the "Maudsley eating disorder collaborative care skills intervention" on parental dyadic coping., Catholic University of the Sacred Heart, Milan